Interim report on matters political. Several days ago we sent word to the campaign headquarters of some of this season's crop of candidates that this area was generally overlooked when campaign pitches were being made.

Comes word from the campaign headquarters of Senator William Knowland. If at all possible, says he, he will make an appearance in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area, time, date and place to be announced.

Political big-league stuff for our hitherto forgotten community!

This is an interim report on unwanted utility poles in our community. . . . expressly the one in the front parking area of the Lemon Grove post office.

The battle is still on, dear readers, and it is seething in underground labyrinths. For example: an up-to-date story from Sacramento reports how a group of utility firm lobbyists were attempting to do some spade work on legislation that would benefit them at the coming session of Legislature.

They had a good story and were making an elegant plea until they ran into Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland of this district.

"Let's get that pole in Lemon Grove moved first," Hegland is reported as having said.

"What pole is that?" lobbyist members are said to have asked.

Then they were told of the stupidity and hardheadedness of the San Diego Gas and Electric Company in refusing to unplug the most public parking spot in Lemon Grove for weak and watery reasons based mostly on an argument that the entire district would be taxed for the pole's removal.

It isn't as though the whole district wouldn't benefit since all district residents use the U. S. mails.

I'm told the lobbyists were embarrassed to realize that "our" pole may bog down their entire project.

Here's an interim report on incorporation of Lemon Grove. We'll have the proper forms and petitions for those who wish to file for city council when and if the county board of supervisors certifies a date for the election.

County counsel will decide between what dates the petitions may be circulated and they will not do this until it is certain an election will be called.

Happy
Birthday
To Us!

Today the REVIEW begins its eleventh year of newspaper service to the community of Lemon Grove.

When this publication was started a decade ago, Broadway's eastern terminus had only recently been extended past the Imperial avenue railway tracks. Population estimate for that era is 4,500.

The REVIEW now serves a community of 24,000 and is a fully paid-subscription newspaper. This permits us the use of second class mailing privileges.

The REVIEW is the only newspaper sincerely and genuinely interested in the community of Lemon Grove and attempts to present happenings in the community fairly and correctly.

We invite readers to total up the individual local items in this publication. There are a surprising number concerning Lemon Grove people, schools, clubs, children and economy. There are also stories concerning governmental activities having to do with our community.

Members of the staff of the REVIEW express appreciation herewith to those who have supplied material to this publication and the management expresses appreciation to those who read us.

Schools Gird For Onslaught

8,200 Students Will Attend High Schools3,650 Students
Awaited Sept. 10

More than 8,200 young men and women will be listed on the rolls when the four high schools of Grossmont high school district open September 8.

According to Assistant Superintendent Harold Hughes, a full slate of teachers and counselors will be on hand, basking gently under a salary increase averaging 15 per cent, to take their young and energetic charges in hand.

As usual, the first day of school will be Freshman Orientation Day. Students will have a sort of get-acquainted program. On September 9, Admission Day, schools will be closed for the state holiday. School starts in earnest Wednesday.

The high school principal menu looks the same this year as last with Mel Grant at Mt. Miguel; Benton Hart at Helix; Tom Warburton at Grossmont; and John Cornelius at El Cajon.

Hughes said that some of the approximately 3,000 students entering the high school program this year may possibly be the first students entering district junior college five years hence. Many obstacles are yet to be overcome before a junior college is a reality, he said.

Transportation will be furnished to students residing more than 2½ miles from his respective school, said Lewis Smith, district superintendent. This is the same policy as in previous years.

He said that counselors will be on hand at each school September 2 through 5 to register newcomers to the district. Any student coming up from an elementary school within the high school district need not register, he added.

Theatre
Building
Bought

The Grove Theatre building has been purchased by a Mt. Helix investor for a reported price of $75,000.00. The property houses the theatre, a restaurant, the Lemon Grove chamber of commerce and six other offices.

Purchaser is David Millsberg of 4860 Beaumont drive, Mt. Helix. He has installed air conditioning in the theatre and a new title curtain.

The building, located at 3455 Imperial avenue is approximately 50 feet wide and 120 feet long. Sellers were Langford brothers, operators of a construction firm bearing their name.

Mrs. Stewart
Dies Following
7-Year Illness

Lillian P. Stewart, 69, died Friday at Grossmont hospital following an illness of seven years. She lived at 1711 Dupont drive, Lemon Grove since 1953. She lived in San Diego county 30 years.

Survivors include her husband, H. Burton Stewart, a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Lammers of Springfield, Ohio and a brother, Ben Trapp, and a sister, Mrs. Ella Brunton, both of elsewhere in California.

Burial was in Glenn Abbey Tuesday following services in Lemon Grove at Conrad's.

Mrs. Kerns
Passes at 85

Mrs. Sarah Kerns, 85, a former Chicago librarian who resided at the Hilltop Chateau in Lemon Grove since 1948, died Tuesday following a lingering illness. She attended St. Phillips Episcopal church in Lemon Grove.

She is survived by two nephews who reside in Illinois.

Services were held Wednesday at Bonham Brothers mortuary followed by cremation. Vicar Phillip Bartlett officiated.

HOLDS KEY — Mrs. John Hendrix of 745 Jacumba street, Lomita Village, was first person to tap the Lemon Grove merchants' treasure chest Thursday when the beginning of a series of weekly Treasure Chest openings was held. Amount of Mrs. Hendrix' prize is $300 for which she had to make no special purchase nor obligate herself in any way. Prizes are to be given every Thursday by member merchants in appreciation for area persons shopping locally.

In the photo are Mrs. Hendrix, Marshall Adams, operator of the store from which Mrs. Hendrix obtained her good-luck "key." Mr. Hendrix, and Evelyn Martin, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin, 2650 Bancroft Drive, Spring Valley, who pulled out the lucky "key." Chest opening took place in the plaza, as it will be every Thursday at 3 p.m. in the future. Related photo on page 7.

50-Year Resident, Dies

Dr. Charles L. Good, 87, a dentist, who came to Lemon Grove fifty years ago and has lived here continuously ever since, died Sunday two years after he was in an auto accident which incapacitated him. He suffered a mental block from a blow on the head in the accident and was never able to leave medical institutions from then on. He died in the Foothills Rest Home.

Dr. Good lived at 7592 Central avenue, with his daughter, Mrs. Mildred Dunton. Until his accident, which was on Alvarado freeway, he was active in his own business affairs. He owned a large portion of Lemon Grove property in the early days but lost considerable of it to the Maion Act fiasco in 1926. He had large holdings in the residential area now known as Golden avenue and other holdings along Massachusetts. His home on Central avenue was once part of a 10 acre mid-Lemon Grove tract.

He was also owner of the first Lemon Grove business building, which is presently occupied by the Lemon Grove Shopping Center. This is the location of Lemon Grove's first postoffice and was the business address of the Soka brothers, an early-time, well known, local family.

Dr. Good came to San Diego in 1900 from Minnesota and moved to Lemon Grove in 1908. He was at one time San Diego city councilman, a county supervisor for the district in which Lemon Grove is included and was chairman of the supervisor's board. He was a graduate of the Northwestern University Dental College, Chicago. He was married to Effie Afton Chapman in 1896. She died in 1954.

He was a member of the board of directors of the San Diego Production Credit Association, San Schools in the Lemon Grove school district will throw open their doors September 10 to approximately 3,650 students, S. K. Solleder, assistant superintendent, estimated this week.

The district this year will include seven school when the now-building San Altos elementary school is completed in late October or early November. Schools in the district now are Lemon Grove Junior High, Golden Avenue, Monterey Heights, Palm Avenue, San Miguel, and Vista La Mesa.

The district will employ 121 teachers this year with eight new teachers and 13 replacements.

The Lemon Grove district this year will place special importance upon science and gifted children in keeping with other schools in San Diego county and across the nation.

At Golden Avenue school gifted children, or "fast learners" as school officials term them, are placed in a separate class and given advanced work. At other schools in the district "fast learners" are given special projects in mathematics and science.

Other special work at the district's schools include speech correction and audiology which will be taught by Mrs. Genevieve Oliphant; developmental reading, taught by Mrs. Louise Beale. Mrs. Lois O'Connell is the district's home tutor. She teaches children who must remain away from school for lengthy periods because of illness or other reasons. Special training for mentally retarded children is given by Mrs. Berenice Ackley, new to the district this year.

Lemon Grove junior high boasts a new library this year. Between 3,500 and 4,000 volumes have been supplied by the San Diego county schools library. The junior high will maintain the library and make additions from time to time, Solleder explained. Heading the library will be Mrs. Phyllis Newkirk.

Long range plans for the school district include another elementary school adjoining Palm avenue school which is expected to be built in one-and-a-half to two years. When completed the Palm Avenue school will be converted into a junior high school.

Transportation schedules will be the same this year for all schools in the district.

District schools and their principals are: Lemon Grove Junior High, Robert E. Sutton; Golden Avenue, Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen; Monterey Heights, W. Arthur Thomas; Palm Avenue, Wiley Cornelius; San Miguel, Ben Schel; San Altos, Douglas Giles, and Vista La Mesa, Clarence H. Allen.

Byron L. Netzel is superintendent of Lemon Grove school district.

Democratic Club
Slates Supper

The second in the series of social events currently being sponsored by the Lemon Grove Democratic Club will be a swim party and picnic to be held at the pool of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Betts, 8145 Palm Avenue, on Sunday of this week, 3 to 8 p.m.

The purpose of the affair, as announced by Mrs. H. J. Warner, president, is to provide an occasion for a friendly get-together in which families can participate.

To honor Bert Betts, the Democratic nominee for state treasurer, and a member of the Lemon Grove club, and to provide funds for expenses in the forthcoming campaign.

According to Mrs. Warner, the silver tea that was held in July was highly successful, both from a social and a financial standpoint.

LG Artist
Wins Float
Design Prize

A Lemon Grove teenager has captured honors for the second time in three years as county winner in the contest to select a design for the San Diego float in the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena on New Year's day.

Betty Long, 18, of 2202 Berry avenue, was awarded the San Diego county prize during breakfast ceremonies Wednesday at Mission Valley Inn. Deanne Fleming, Miss San Diego, presented the award to Miss Long.

The eighteen-year-old artist's design was used for San Diego's float at the parade on New Year's day in 1957. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Long.

Betty's design is one of two entries that will be judged by parade officials in about six weeks. San Diego city winner was Mrs. Helen Remfree of 4091 48th street.

Miss Long's design depicts "San Diego, An Adventure in Living," in keeping with the parade theme "Adventure in Flowers." Her float, if used, will be based on a huge sun behind a sun goddess in a golden bower. Two of San Diego's loveliest girls will be situated on each side of the float with white birds in front and a water skier in the middle.

Miss Long has lived in Lemon Grove for three years and is a June graduate of Mt. Miguel high school. She expects to continue her art interest at State College this fall where she will major in art.

Boom Industry In L.G.,
But It's A Monopoly

If you are looking for the recession, don't look in the local post office.

There's an unprecedented boom in stamp sales . . . and individual pieces of mail are approaching record proportions, too. According to Frenchy Faucher, Lemon Grove postmaster, stamp sales for the first two weeks in July amounted to $4,328.00. The first two weeks in August, patrons purchased $3,813.00 worth. A year ago, same period, July sales were $3,579; August $3,449.

In the individual letter department there were $4,749 letters mailed the first two weeks in July. First two weeks in August patrons mailed 90,139 pieces. Same period a year ago: July, 71,246; August, 78,108.

It is interesting to note, says

Guns, Cash
Stolen At
S&M Store

Deputy sheriffs are investigating a robbery which occurred late Monday night or early Tuesday of this week at the S and M Sporting Goods store, 9153 Campo road, Spring Valley.

Hugh Shiels, one of the owners, said the robber jimmied the front door to gain admission. Stolen were two 22 revolvers a 22 automatic, a 41, a pellet gun and some cash.

Shiels said the robber apparently "knew his way around" as the jimmied door looked like a professional job. He said that someone tried to break into the store about four months ago, by jimmyming the back door, but was unsuccessful.

SAN DIEGO — Blue collar civilian employees of the military services in the San Diego-Oceanside-El Centro labor market area will be granted wage increases effective September 1, 1958, eleven Naval district headquarters announced last week.

Wage increases for most maintenance and production workers will average 16 cents and range from 12 cents to 23 cents an

Earns Scholarship

Radiationist Bardacke

A 16-year-old Lemon Grove youth is spending his summer doing research in radiation genetics at the Jackson Memorial Laboratory in Bar Harbor, Maine. Frank Bardacke, son of Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Bardacke of 3747 Citrus street, was awarded a scholarship to the research institution's 10-week summer training program. Twenty-two college students and 29 pre-college students from over 400 applicants, are participating in this unique opportunity to test their interests and ability in the field of science and medical research by working with eminent scientists in fully equipped laboratories.

The students work in small groups or individually according to the needs of the research in which they are involved. They also attend daily lectures presented by staff scientists and fellow students. They supplement their laboratory and lecture work by participating in seminars, demonstrations, and discussions.

Bardacke is studying the effects of radiation on the genetic activity of mice. He is working under the sponsorship and guidance of Dr. Earl L. Green, Director of the Jackson Laboratory. A senior at Helix high school, he first heard of the training program through his physics teacher, Mr. Watenphugh. He plans to continue his education and go into some phase of science or become a news analyst.

The Jackson Laboratory, largest center of mammalian genetics in the world, is devoted to the study of constitutional diseases such as cancer, muscular dystrophy, and anemia. Because the physiology of mice is so similar to that of the human being, they are of vital necessity as tools for research. The laboratory has developed over 50 individual strains of laboratory mice for use in research not only at the Bar Harbor laboratory but in laboratories all over the world to which 20,000 mice are shipped every week.

Onetime 'Free' Property Being Offered For Sale

By Tommy Thomas

A Spring Valley historic landmark is once again in the news. Lots are being offered for sale again on "Dictionary Hill."

Longtime residents will remember that the hill was also known as "Mount Lookout" and Encyclopedia Hill at various times.

Mrs. Eileen Smith, who is considered to be Spring Valley's official historian, said she understands the hill was called "Mount Lookout" from the time the Captain Porter family lived at the old adobe house on the chamber of commerce grounds, until about 1910. It was called "Mount Lookout" because the Porters used to go atop the hill to look out to sea for incoming ships.

According to B. B. Moore, former county surveyor, who is now with the San Diego Historical Society, a nationally known sales company, known as the "Interstate Realty and Improvement Company" with headquarters in San Francisco, purchased many lots in the subdivision of the East San Diego Villa Heights in 1910. This subdivision was on a steep hillside south of Spring Valley, and overlooked the Sweetwater lake, the Pacific Ocean and much of the surrounding countryside.

After the company purchased the hill property, the lots went to persons who purchased a set of encyclopedias from the company. These encyclopedias came in a set of 25 books, half-leather bound, and were entitled "The Library of University History and Popular Science."

The purchase price of the volume was $109 and the contract specified that a lot, 50 x 100, would be given to anyone purchasing a set of the books.

A portion of the guarantee read: "It is guaranteed that these lots are high and dry and free from damp, wet land. No taxes on the above lot for two years, or extra assessments of any kind. We will deliver with the deed, a certificate of title, issued by the San Diego Title Insurance Guarantee and Trust Company, showing title free of all encumbrances. It is understood and agreed that the above contract is for the purchase of the books only, and that no charge has been made or will be made for said lot, and the said deed is given free as a premium with the purchase of the above mentioned books."

Signed: Miller Publishing Co., per agent."

A copy of one of the agreements was found and the name of a Fred C. Comath was listed as the agent. The name of the purchaser, one of the early ones, was J. S. Hanford, of Hanford, California. It was signed in July of 1912, and showed that Hanford had paid $10 down.

Historian Moore said it is his understanding that at the time of the Dictionary Hill project, the company practiced the same sort of sales propaganda throughout the United States and Canada, and were finally prohibited by law.

It so happened that in the Hollywood Hills district, where the company put on a similar campaign, the property developed into a high-class residential district, increasing the value greatly.

Moore said he learned that the company had projects in Florida, and all along the eastern seaboard, each time using a different "gimmick." The operation was so set up, that if a person tried to sue the company, he could only sue one unit and not the entire set-up.

It was through the connection of the transfers of the property with the purchase of the encyclopedias, that some of the local real estate dealers referred to the locality as "Dictionary Hill."

In those early days of the hill,

R. W. Miller with the county surveyor's office. He described the property as "Outside the Ex-mission San Diego grant and containing 480 acres." The property was surveyed in October, 1910, and filed in February, 1911. The surveyor, George Butler, opposed the filing "because it is unfit for habitation and there is no water there."

Many of the purchasers of the encyclopedias, who were given the lots, presumably had never seen their property until they came to San Diego in 1915-16 to the California Panama Exposition. Most of them just let the property go. Later most of the lots were sold for delinquent taxes.

The late Olin Gillespie, who was living in Point Loma at the time of his death, grew up in the shadow of Dictionary Hill. It was reported, Gillespie said that at one time an old man by the name of Woodward occupied a house on the hill. The only mail he received was his remittance check and an occasional newspaper. He wore an overcoat and heavy clothing, winter and summer, and always carried a five-foot long scarf.

Gillespie said he remembered a ward never went into San Diego. When he wanted his watch repaired, he left it at the Spring Valley store. It was thought in those early days that Woodward had walked here from some place in Canada. He had an obsession about his mail being tampered with. His nephew appeared one day and took him to a hospital where he died.

Gillespie said he remembered a legend that told of Indians who used Dictionary Hill as a signal point.

Historian Moore said that during his investigation he learned of a company known as the "Dictionary Hills Avocado Groves" now has most of the property. Through their courtesy he was able to obtain the copy of one of the original contracts.

Ralph W. Chapman, one of the present owners of the hill property said lots are being sold only on the south side of the hill at the present time, and are sold on a geographical and progressive plan. In other words, not spot selling. Chapman said there is plenty of water to be had on Dictionary Hill, now that the La Presa Water district is in operation.

The hill was also called "Encyclopedia Hill" at one time but people found it too difficult to pronounce.

BROWN PATCH

Brown Patch, a fungus disease sometimes referred to as fairy ring, has been very prevalent this year over many parts of the country and strangely enough it has been known to attack many different varieties of lawn. It appears in the form of dried up brown patches that spread very rapidly if measured are not taken promptly to stop it.

Since this is a fungus disease, spraying with a fungicide that will not injure your lawn is the proper procedure. A combination of copper and ether blended with light vegetable, mineral and organic oils has proven very effective, as has also a wettable powder combining copper zinc and chromium. The treatment should be applied promptly. If you give the disease time to spread, it will destroy your lawn.

Regardless of how promptly and successfully you combat the disease, the lawn should be fertilized with a light fertilization after treatment, to assist it in making a prompt and vigorous "come back."

SWEET PEAS

Now is the time to pull up your old sweet peas if you haven't already done so and begin preparing your soil for the new ones you are going to plant.

Preparation of the soil is highly important and doing so about 3 weeks before planting is advisable.

Due to the fact that many sweet pea plants succumb to pests and diseases before they have a chance to get started, one of the most important things you can do to safeguard their early health is to disinfect the soil in which you are going to plant them with a combination of copper and ether (dichloroethyl ether) — a material widely used as a soil disinfectant. This permits you to plant your seeds in a clean soil and gets them off to an excellent start.

I have a complete bulletin on the proper way to plant and take care of sweet peas which I will be glad to send you without charge if you care to have it.

LEMON GROVE'S CONTRIBUTION to the field of beauty for Chula Vista's Fiesta de la luna September 12-21 is Carolyn Randall, 7848 Nichols, who is a candidate for queen of the event. Fiesta's theme this year is "Saddles to Satellites" which give a world of area in which the participants may work. One of the features this year is the awarding of the sports car used as backdrop for Miss Randall. Miss Randall, a San Diego State freshman, is sponsored by the L.G. Jaycees.

Patio Cooking To Be Program Feature

"Patio Cooking with Portable Appliances," the eighth in this year's "Better Living . . . Automatically" series of programs, sponsored by the Home Economics Department, San Diego Gas & Electric Company, emphasized Tuesday, in the utility's Eastern District Office, 104 North Johnson Street, El Cajon. It will be held in the air-conditioned auditorium from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. All homemakers in the area are invited to attend this admission-free event.

Thelma Walters, San Diego Gas & Electric Company, emphasized this "hot weather season" program will be as appropriate as the air-conditioned setting in which it will be presented. She points out that this is the season when cooking on the patio can be as timely as eating there. Walters will show how to prepare a complete meal out there—getting away from interior heat. She'll demonstrate the preparation of a complete, delicious meal through the use of handy portable electric appliances ranging from roaster oven, skillet, saucepan, deep-fat fryer to sandwich grill, waffle iron, ice cream maker, blender and coffee maker.

Mrs. Walters announces that an additional feature of the program will be a brief discussion of "Full Housepower" by Gene McElroy, San Diego Gas & Electric Company wiring and lighting counselor. She stressed that anyone intending to remodel her kitchen at some time or planning the kitchen in her "dream home" will surely want to hear this talk.

It was added that small appliance door prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Humane Society Fetes Officials

The San Diego Humane Society, 887 Sherman street, celebrated its "new look" Wednesday with a series of open houses and previews for city and county officials and civic leaders. The Society recently remodeled its facilities.

get. Also labor legislation, Attorney General Brown's ruling banning prayer and Bible reading in the schools, highways, education, and loyalty legislation. Shearer said he would be glad to enlarge the number of topics to include any others of interest to Hegland. "I have today written to Mr. Hegland," Shearer said, "and urged him to accept the point invitations. I think it is only fair that people of our district be permitted to see us together, compare our views, and in the American tradition, choose the man they feel best qualified to represent them in Sacramento."

Shearer Asks Debates With Election Opponent

William K. Shearer, Republican candidate for state assemblyman in the 77th district, challenged his Democratic opponent, Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland, to a series of district-wide debates. Shearer made the challenge during a non-partisan meeting Tuesday at the American Legion Hall in Encinitas.

Shearer suggested that he and Hegland discuss voluntary unionism, or the right to work; Hegland's school financing measure, A.B. 3903, which Shearer said would raise taxes in every school district in the 77th assembly district; Hegland's public officials bill, California water development, and state fiscal policies, including taxes and the state budget.

McDavid Warns Exchange Club Of Proposition 17 Tax Peril

EL CAJON—This is a year of grave decision for the voters of California if they are to preserve the state's economy and tax structure, Robert E. McDavid, Southern California member of the State Board of Equalization, declared last Thursday.

Speaking to the El Cajon Exchange Club at the Singing Hills Country Club, McDavid warned that proposition 17, which appears on the November 4 ballot, "must be defeated."

"This initiative measure which would reduce the present sales tax rate from 3 to 2 per cent, and increase the personal income tax maximum from six to 46 per cent, would reduce the state's general fund revenue by more than $50 million," he said.

McDavid also urged that taxpayers be wary of persons who would abolish elective offices such as state treasurer, controller and the State Board of Equalization, and would set up a giant Department of Revenue.

"The taxpayers, who pay the bills for operating our government are to often given little or no consideration," he pointed out.

McDavid told the Exchange Club statistics showed that El

Cajon had an increase of retail outlets and an increase of more than $1 million in taxable transactions in the first quarter of 1958 as compared with the same period in 1957, while business in the state as a whole showed a slight decline.

Bank To Build Another Branch

Jack W. Koop, vice president and manager of the Lemon Grove branch of the First National Trust and Savings Bank, this week announced that the bank will build its twentieth branch in the newly proposed two-million-dollar Allied Gardens shopping center.

The bank this week signed a long-term ground lease with Bollenbacher and Kelton, owners and developers of the Allied Gardens area, said Koop. Construction will begin as soon as the architect's plans are approved.

Bollenbacher and Kelton are planning the shopping center on a 14-acre tract facing Waring road. The contemplated structure will be strategically located at the southwest corner of the center.

WHAT AND HOW TO SHOOT

I never realized finding subject matter for photos was a problem . . . until last week when this fellow walked into my shop.

He sidled up to the counter, leaned over and said, "My wife gave me a Kodak Pony Camera for my birthday but I can't think of anything to shoot. Got any ideas?"

It was one of the few times anyone asked me for picture-taking ideas. It took me by surprise. But I reached for the new Kodak book, "Adventures in Outdoor Color Slides" and began turning the pages. "This ought to have a few pointers," I told him.

The book gave the whole color slide story . . . what to shoot and how to do it. There were pictures of children, pets, seashore and country scenes, zoos, animals, clowns, mountains, flowers and gardens, picnics, city street scenes and even action shots of baseball games.

"Well I'll be," he said, taking the book from my hands. "I never realized there were so many things to photograph. Why, I can find these subjects almost anywhere." With that he turned and walked out the door, still thumbing through the pages. The guy was so absorbed that he forgot to pay me. And I forgot to ask him, too. But I really don't care. (I charged the 50 cents to his account.)

Moral? Nothing earth-shattering, really. But if you need any ideas or help, drop in.

Avocado Tree Sun Blotch Can Occur At Any Time

Sun blotch disease in avocados may show up in trees which previously showed no evidence of the disease, says Farm Advisor C. D. Gustafson, University of California. A number of old trees, twenty to thirty years old, have shown the symptoms of the disease for the first time during their life span.

The cause of sun blotch is a virus. The only known method of transmission of this disease is through propagation using budwood, graftwood, or seeds from infected trees. The virus is present in all parts of the tree and is not localized at any certain point, even though the symptoms may be found on only one part.

Reduction in yield and quality is the damage realized by the grower when the disease develops in the trees. Trees which show the symptoms when young will usually be stunted in growth.

Positive symptoms on diseased trees are: Depressed streaks on green twigs, usually yellow, brown, or slightly pink; yellow or whitish depressed markings on green fruit and reddish-purple depressed markings on dark fruit.

Gustafson says that control of sun blotch is by prevention. Budwood, graftwood, and seeds should be taken only from trees which have proved to be free from the disease.

Nursery trees which show signs of being diseased should be destroyed and the parent trees located if possible. If the parent trees are found, make sure that no propagation material is taken from them. This can be accomplished by tagging the trees or by their removal.

It is safe to replant avocado trees in the same spot where a sun blotch tree has previously grown.

Local Goodwill Store Shows Bigger Income

During its first year of operation, the Goodwill Industries store in Lemon Grove has shown a sizeable increase in sales for the first six months of this year. Dr. Myron Insko, executive director, told the board of directors at Tuesday's semi-annual meeting at the San Diego headquarters.

Dr. Insko said that the Lemon Grove store reported a total of $11,518 in sales the first six months of this year or a daily average of $74.32, as compared to total sales of $8,950 or a daily average of $57.75 during the same period in 1957.

The Goodwill Industries paid out a total of $166,997 in "opportunity wages" to 225 handicapped workers and other personnel during the period, as compared to $152,322 in 1957. Percy Treve-thon, executive vice president of Goodwill Industries of America, attended the meeting, and said that Goodwill stores soon will be opened in six new American cities as well as in Honolulu, Manila, and other communities. He said that the 120 units provided work for 35,000 handicapped persons during the past year—the largest employer of handicapped people, with a gross of $32,000,000.

Max Goodwin, Review publisher, and a member of the Goodwill Industries board, attended the business meeting, which followed a luncheon.

The oldest and largest independent financial institution in San Diego area, the bank was started August 27, 1883, when the San Diego county of today could hardly have been envisioned by the most farsighted of pioneers, five prominent San Diego businessmen founded what is now the First National Trust and Savings Bank. They were Jacob Grun, who served as the bank's first president; John Holtz, W. L. Parker, R. A. Thomas and John R. Thomas.

First National, which now has nineteen offices and more than 650 employees, opened its first office at the corner of E street and 5th avenue in San Diego with a handful of employees and resources of only $50,000. Today the bank has resources of two hundred million and ranks 142 among the nation's more than 15,000 banks.

"The First National is not alone in this remarkable growth," said Jack W. Koop, vice president and manager of the local office. "The most optimistic growth projection for Lemon Grove a few short years ago have been phenomenally exceeded."

Recognizing the potential growth factors in the local area, First National Bank in 1949 established a branch in Lemon Grove. Since 1949, First National has established nine more branches and plans are being made for a 20th branch in the new Allied Gardens Shopping Center."

Looking back through seventy-five years of banking service, the First National has taken part in many significant firsts. Koop recalled.

"In 1883 First National financed the first fishing fleet in San Diego County and two years later it undertook another first by assisting in the financing of the first railroad into San Diego," said Koop.

And unknown to many local automobile owners and dealers, the bank, in 1902, was the first bank on the Pacific Coast to finance automobiles.

"Also, through its affiliate, the First Trust and Savings Bank, First National in 1921 was the first bank to offer branch banking to assist persons living outside the downtown area.

"In 1942 First National led the way in establishing the common trust fund as a means of extending trust services to modest-sized estates, and just two years ago the bank installed automatic data processing equipment, the first in San Diego county," said Koop.

"Since 1883 First National has been a leading financial agency in San Diego county," said Anderson Borthwick, president of the bank. "In that long span of years the bank has endeavored to meet the credit requirements of this great and growing area.

"It is fitting, therefore," Borthwick said, "that in this, our 75th year, we express our sincere gratitude to our thousands of friends whose loyalty and good will have added so much to the growth and solid strength of our institution. We renew the pledge of our fullest support to them and this community."

War I Veterans Plan Public Meet In Lemon Grove

Department officers of Veterans of World War I will visit Lemon Grove soon to hold an opening meeting.

Veterans of World War I is a national organization represented in every state. California has 131 branches. The organization has grown to the third largest veterans organization in the nation.

On July 19 President Eisenhower signed a bill granting them a congressional charter.

The California Senate recently passed a resolution to urge Congress to vote a pension of $100 a month to all World War I veterans who are sixty-two or older and whose income is not more than $2,400 a year without dependents, or $3,800 a year with dependents.

Department commander, Edward Neron said recently, "There are many World War I veterans living in Lemon Grove who are entitled to pensions due to their gallant service in the war of 1917-18. Many of them are unaware of benefits they may be entitled to."

All World War I veterans are requested to register with the department of California by sending their name, address and serial number to Veterans of World War I, 201 S. Mission drive, San Gabriel, California.

San Diego's Padres wind up their 1958 Pacific Coast League home season this week before taking to the road for two crucial weeks in the pennant race.

Vancouver is the back of the flag scramble with the Padres and Phoenix will be here for big games Friday through Sunday. Then next Monday the teams continue the series in Vancouver.

San Diego attendance is expected to run 60,000 over last season, final year at old Lane Field.

Gates for Westgate Park were for 1958 will be announced Sunday between games of the closing doubleheader with Vancouver. Dave Pope, Rod Grab and Larry Raines are leading candidates for the award, including a trophy and a check from Murray Goodrich, ardent Padres fan.

LG Woman Awarded New College Post

San Diego State this week reported a major expansion of its engineering program through creation of a formal division of engineering.

President M. A. Love said the step raised engineering to an equal footing with such divisions as business administration and the social sciences. Previously, engineering had been one of seven departments under the division of physical sciences.

Love said establishment of the new division would permit S. D. State to move rapidly toward giving local engineers a chance to pursue advanced degrees in their own community.

He said the development was part of a general expansion of engineering studies in San Diego stemming from a special resolution of the California Legislature in April which permits state colleges to apply for accreditation by the Engineering Council for Professional Development, and to set up graduate engineering programs.

Three administrative promotions were also announced by Dr. Love.

Effective September 1, Dr. John L. Schmidt, acting test officer, will assume the post of curriculum evaluator; Mrs. Marion L. Parker, registrar, will become admissions analyst; and Mrs. Peggy Gilbert, machine accounting supervisor, will become registrar. Mrs. Gilbert and her husband, Donald, accounting officer at San Diego State, live at 1445 Bakersfield, Lemon Grove. Their daughter, Mrs. Betty Bussey, lives in San Diego. Their son, Jimmy, 13, is a student at Lemon Grove junior high school.

Mrs. Gilbert, graduate of San Diego State, joined the college staff in 1957 after five years in the engineering and systems service departments of International Business Machines Corporation. She had previously worked in the college evaluations department.

As registrar, she will supervise all college record-keeping. Bulletins for San Diego State's off-campus extension program and evening program this fall are available in the college Office of Extended Services, according to Dr. Manfred H. Schrupp, dean of education and extended services.

Extension bulletins may also be obtained by writing the Office of Extended Services, San Diego State college, San Diego 15.

THELMA WALTERS

HOME
ECONOMIST
SAN DIEGO
GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY

SUGGESTS:

Its the wise homemaker who puts her portable appliances to full use—and the hot weather season is when she can really do it. For it's then that cooking on the patio can be as timely as eating there.

"Patio Cooking with Portable Appliances," eighth in this year's "Better Living . . . Automatically" series of programs being sponsored by the Home Economics Department, San Diego Gas & Electric Company, will be presented next Tuesday, August 26, at the utility's Eastern District Office, 104 North Johnson Street, El Cajon. It will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., in the air-conditioned auditorium.

I'm sure you'll be amazed at the delicious complete meal that I'll prepare, using a rotisserie oven, skillet, saucepan, deep-fat fryer, sandwich grill, waffle iron, ice cream maker, blender and coffee maker. And all of these electrically operated small appliances are automatically controlled—assuring foods cooked exactly as you and your family like them.

Appropriate to the subject of the day, our guest speaker will be Gene McElroy, San Diego Gas & Electric Company wiring and lighting counselor. He'll discuss "full housepower"—that all important factor in any home which contributes to more efficient operation of appliances and better lighting condition. His message about having plenty of electrical outlets—outdoors for patio cooking and indoors for kitchen cooking and other homemaking duties—will be of special interest to you. You'll find this valuable information to have, whether you're planning to remodel your present kitchen or are gathering material for your "dream home."

I'll be looking forward to seeing you next Tuesday. Why not enjoy a couple of hours in air-conditioned comfort—gaining for all time some handy knowledge that can make summertime meal preparation so much easier. There'll also be a gift for every one attending and special small appliance door prizes. Refreshments will be served as usual and lots of parking space will be available.

Double Sessions At San Miguel

Students who will attend the new San Altos school this year will attend classes at San Miguel school until the San Altos school is completed. Double sessions will be held at San Miguel until sometime in October when the San Altos school is expected to be completed.

San Miguel students will attend classes in the morning and San Altos students will attend classes in the afternoon. Most of the children from the San Altos area will be eligible for transportation to the San Miguel school.

Parents of children registering for San Altos school are reminded that they are to register at San Miguel school on or after August 25.

Giles Named To Head New San Altos School

Douglas Giles, a fifth grade teacher at Harborside school in Chula Vista last year, has been named principal at the new San Altos school.

Giles was graduated from the University of Texas in 1954 and has been connected with nearly all phases of education. He lives with his wife and two children in the San Altos area.

Michael's Cafe To Serve Breakfast

First call for breakfast was sung out this week at Michael's cafe on Broadway in Lemon Grove.

The restaurant, which has built a nationwide reputation on dinner, will begin serving breakfast Monday. Breakfast service hours will be 7 to 11 a.m. including Sundays and holidays. The latter should appeal to families with Sunday breakfast problems, the management said.

To encourage local business people to use the facilities, Michael's will serve coffee without charge and without a purchase necessary to all who visit the cafe during the breakfast hours the first week of the new venture.

The cafe management said club breakfasts as well as ala carte selections would be featured. Featured, too, will be dollar-sized pancakes.

Register To Vote Now For Election

September 11 will be the last day of registration to vote for all newcomers to the area and those who have changed their addresses since the last June election.

To be eligible to vote, a person must have lived in the state one year, the county 90 days and at present address 54 days, for the November 4 election. If you change parties, you should register to the party of your choice.

You will now find deputy registrars of voters in many public places, such as markets, banks, etc. These deputies will give you all the help and information needed.

School Registration Set For Next Week

Registration for children in the La Mesa-Spring Valley and Lemon Grove school districts, kindergarten through the eighth grade, will begin Monday of next week, according to the school district's officials. School begins September 10.

Children who attended local schools last June need not register again. All others must be registered by their parents, Dr. Taylor said. Elementary and junior high schools will be open for registration from 8 a.m. until noon, and from 1 to 4 p.m. Children must be registered before school starts.

A kindergarten child must have been born before December 2, 1953, to be eligible for school and children who are to start in the first grade must have been born before December 2, 1952. Parents should bring a birth certificate or some proof of birthdate.

Students will be assigned to classes and information along with the teacher's name, classroom number and starting and closing time for classes, transportation schedules and other pertinent information will be posted in a prominent place at each school by Wednesday, September 3, one week prior to beginning of school.

Following are the schools in the Spring Valley area: Bancroft 8805 Tyler street, HO 9-7868, Casa de Oro, Agua Dulce and Ramona, HO 6-9135, Spring Valley Elementary, 3845 Spring drive, HO 6-8307, Spring Valley junior high school, 3900 Conrad drive, HO 9-0141.

Schools in the Lemon Grove

district are Palm Avenue, 8424 Palm avenue, HO 6-4119; Golden Avenue, School Lane and Golden avenue, HO 9-2119; Lemon Grove junior high, 7866 Lincoln, HO 9-4183; Monterey Heights, 7550 Canton drive, HO 9-0159; San Miguel, 7059 San Miguel, HO 6-3239, and Vista La Mesa, 7101 Pearson avenue, HO 6-3281. Students who will attend the unfinished San Altos school will register at San Miguel.

90,700 Mark Seen For City Schools

Enrollment at San Diego city schools is expected to reach 90,700 students during the 1958-59 year. This would be an increase of 6,500 students, or eight percent over last year's enrollment.

The city has hired 543 new teachers for the upcoming semester. Of this number, 225 are filling new jobs, the remainder are replacements.

To handle the influx of new students the school districts have completed or will complete during the 1958-59 school year, a total of eight new schools. Three new schools will be ready for opening day, September 10.

The expected enrollment at Audubon school in Lomita Village is 1,022. One of the reasons the school is so large is because it is temporarily taking the place of two schools. The Robert Fulton school, to be built at Skyline and Luther Way, is still in preliminary stages. It is expected to be completed during the 1959-60 school year.

Encanto elementary school has grown from one small building and a tin drinking cup to a school that expects 1,005 students this year.

Lincoln High school expects 1,745 students which is near the 1,500 ideal high school mark.

Gompers junior high, which was built for a little more than 1,500 students four years ago, now expects 2,200 youngsters on opening day.

With the opening of school comes a renewal of Parent-Teacher activities. The PTA's theme this year is "We Expand Our Circles of Cooperation." Presidents of all PTA groups again urge all people interested in the welfare of youth to come to their meetings.

121 Teachers Named To Staff

Lemon Grove school district will employ 121 teachers during the 1958-59 school year, according to S. K. Solleder, assistant superintendent of the district.

Byron L. Netzel, district superintendent, and Solleder will conduct a pre-school orientation workshop for all teachers of the district September 25. School district personnel will attend the San Diego county superintendent of schools' sponsored teachers' institute in Balboa Park on Monday, September 8. Tuesday, September 9, is Admission Day and school will start on Wednesday, September 10.

Summer School A Success, Claims School Official

The recent summer session was a success this community can be proud of, according to a report made last week by Dr. Harris Taylor, assistant superintendent, Instruction, of La Mesa-Spring Valley schools.

The six-weeks program was science-centered. Students studied biology, astronomy and space travel, geography, physics, chemistry, and other physical and natural sciences suitable for their age and grade. Children were able to spend more time on experiments and individual study than would have been possible during the regular, crowded school year, said principal James Halcomb.

One hundred and twenty children attended the remedial reading clinic conducted as a special program at La Mesa elementary school. High gains averaging four months growth in reading skill in just six weeks, were made. Students were instructed in small classes by very able teachers, said Halcomb. They were assisted by Clay Wilson, district psychologist, and by guidance personnel from San Diego State College (who were provided at no cost to the district).

Remedial programs in mathematics and English were carried on at La Mesa junior high. Progress was extremely rewarding, said Halcomb. Of course there were problems, he added. While attendance was higher than in all previous years, much improvement would still be desirable.

Most children were in summer school because they sincerely wanted to study, he emphasized. However, some boys and girls were enrolled by parents who apparently just wanted them out of the way for six weeks. In addition, some children were withdrawn suddenly in order to go on vacation. These youngsters should never have been enrolled, said Halcomb.

Summer school in this community is designed for concentrated instruction and not for "child care and play" added Dr. Taylor. A record 1,500 students were enrolled this year. Most of them wanted to study, he said.

The entire program was administered by one principal, who was assisted by a head teacher at each of 12 schools. There are 14 schools in the district. Since schools were operated in nearly all neighborhoods, no school bus transportation was necessary. The summer activity was entirely paid for with state money and no local tax funds were used, said Dr. Taylor.

Generally, the summer program was so successful, and its system of organization so efficient and economical, that plans are already being drawn up for the 1959 session, he said. Parent and student interest, plus the heavy demands of the new space age seem to show clearly the need for a well-developed academic summer program, he concluded.

Avocado Irrigation Critical Period Expected Soon

September and October are critical months from the standpoint of avocado irrigation, reports University of California Farm Advisor Don Gustafson. The first 18 to 20 inches of soil in avocado orchards should be kept moist at all times during this crucial period.

This year, Gustafson says, many orchards have trees carrying heavy loads of fruit. If the trees become stressed for moisture at anytime during the next few months, a loss of fruit could result. If a deep irrigation has not been applied recently, it should be done soon. This permits a flushing of the salts from the first foot or two of top soil. Poorly drained soils should be handled carefully to prevent waterlogging.

It is recommended to irrigate once a week on the lighter textured and shallow soils since these types become dry in a short time. Because a large percentage of the avocado roots are found in the upper 18-24 inches of the soil, it is important to have a readily available supply of water. Keeping the upper soil at a fairly high moisture level has the desirable effect of supplying the trees with easily available moisture, and at the same time maintaining the salts in a dilute state which does not affect the trees so seriously.

Tipburn, or salt injury, begins showing in the fall months. Hot weather causes a rapid depletion of soil moisture. Because the fall months are usually one of hot, dry and windy conditions, it is especially important to have moisture in the soil.

CHARTER GRADUATING CLASS of Mt. Miguel high school are shown in this photo taken in June. In this class were 231 students who came from three other high schools in the district. This, some say, worked a hardship on students who had built up three years of acquaintance ship among students and school personnel. Others said it added flexibility against the day, like the one illustrated above, when many would complete schooling and face a challenging world.

Changing schools and teachers during high school were not all the unusual conditions these students faced. Under the principalship of Melvin Grant, they started their school year in a building less than 75 per cent complete. The construction was held up by heavy spring rains. The school had no lights and no heat until after Christmas vacation last year. As a matter of fact, says Principal Grant, the school was "officially" completed only last month.

So out-of-kilter was the construction schedule that the school's dedication ceremonies will be held this year in September... a full year after youngsters started tramping into the school's 57 classrooms.

This year the school population will be approximately 1,900 students plus 102 school employees including 70 credentialed persons. This year more than 300 students will be graduated.

The plant itself, centered on a

50 acre site on Sweetwater road is unusual in the fact that it was designed and built at a record low cost of $10.55 a square-foot. Total cost for plant, site and site development was a trifle, if that is the word, less than two million dollars.

Jose Ferrer To Star In Next La Jolla Playhouse Play

The twelfth and in many ways the most successful season of La Jolla Playhouse will finish in a blaze of glory when producer Lamont Johnson presents one of the most dynamic personalities of the entertainment world, Jose Ferrer, in the world premiere of "Edwin Booth," a new play by Milton Geiger.

Ferrer, who also will direct the production, plans to take the play from La Jolla to Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago before opening it on Broadway in December. The play is biographical and concerned with the life of one of America's greatest actors. It affords Ferrer a chance to play bits of some of the finest roles enacted by Booth.

Also starring with Ferrer is the Canadian actor, Lorne Greene. Others in the cast are Robert Geiringer, Patricia Kane, David Garcia, Maurice Manson, and Marion Ross.

Costumes are by famed Hollywood designer, Edith Head.

Rehearsals began in Hollywood ten days ago and were continuing at La Jolla Playhouse Monday. "Edwin Booth" opens for its two-week run on August 25, following the current rollicking comedy, "Visit to a Small Planet," starring Reginald Gardiner, Alan Reed, and Les Tremayne, which closes Saturday night.

Luncheon Honors 'Backyard Swim' Program Members

The San Miguel school PTA gave a luncheon August 13 in the home of Mrs. J. A. Martin, 1957-58 president, for workers in the "backyard swim campaign" summer program. A total of 250 children were given free instruction in water safety and beginning swimming.

Private pool owners who donated the use of their pools for two or more periods of 10 days for the half-hour lessons were: Mr. and Mrs. Bert Betts, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drew and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Poushman.

San Miguel PTA members who assisted in class organization and supervision were: mesdames Roy Papenhaus, James McFeeley, James McEntee, Ralph Castaneda, Kenneth La Dam, Francis Roch, John Grandee, Willie Carr, Jack Rubin, Charles Buono, William Hofer, R. R. Mann, M. Durrand, William Scarborough, Clyde Good, Carl Hasse, William B. Scott, James Durr and J. A. Martin.

Mrs. Evelyn Cecelski, Red Cross backyard swim campaign director, attended the luncheon.

PTA members at the luncheon meeting decided to stage a similar campaign next summer which will include all six elementary school PTA groups. The Red Cross will offer instructor training this winter and next spring. The last class for this season is in session now.

An effort will be made to secure use of more pools for next summer's campaign in order to cover the entire Lemon Grove area. Information about the class can be obtained by contacting Mrs. J. A. Martin.

Poultry Growers Urged To Use Artificial Lights

Poultrymen use artificial lights to supplement the decreasing daylight as the fall and winter months approach, according to Robert H. Adolph, University of California farm advisor. Between now and October 15, growers start using supplemental lighting to keep birds in constant production.

Total hours of light that Adolph recommends is 14 hours. It has been a practice of many poultrymen to use much more than this total lighting, however, all experimental evidence has not justified any amount greater than this for laying birds.

Using the 14 hours as a basic total, poultrymen would add about an hour of additional light between now and October 15. After that date, it would gradually go to two hours. By December, poultrymen would then be adding up to four hours, since at this time of the year there is only 10 hours of natural daylight.

Additional information on artificial lighting may be obtained in a circular from the Farm Advisor's office, Bldg. 1, 4005 Rosecrans street, San Diego 10.

University Extension To Sponsor Engineering Fundamentals Review

SAN DIEGO — Due to high early enrollment, the University of California University Extension, today announced the opening of a second section in the Engineering Fundamentals Review course, designed as a refresher for engineers preparing to take state professional examinations. The class opened Aug. 14, but students may enroll through Thursday of this week according to C. A. Lewis, UC Extension director in San Diego.

Vincent Price, noted actor and authority on art, will appear at the Pacific Beach junior high school auditorium, 4670 Ingraham street, October 29, to present his widely-hailed reading of Vincent

Van Gogh's letters to his brother, Theo., the university extension announced.

The dramatic reading, entitled "Dear Theo," is being presented by the extension in association with the Scripps Institution of Oceanography and the Theatre Arts Foundation of San Diego county.

The university extension announced this week the second San Diego presentation of the unique management course, "Sensitivity Training for Managers," will begin Sept. 26, taught by La Jolla psychologist Dr. Richard Farson. The unusual course, designed to teach managers principles of human relations for in-plant situations, will start with a "live-in" weekend Sept. 26-28 at the University of California conference center, Lake Arrowhead. All sections of the course, sponsored by University of California Extension, will meet in the first two-day session at the Arrowhead center.

Following the "live-in" weekend, the San Diego section of the course will meet every Thursday from October 2 through Dec. 4 at the Kona Kai Club. Meetings will start at 4:30 p.m. and end at 9 p.m., with an intermission for dinner.

The course is open to managers and executives in all fields of business, public service, and the armed forces.

RFD Service To Be Extended

Immediate steps will be taken to extend rural delivery service to areas which qualify under the new regulations announced by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, regional postal officials in San Francisco said today.

Regional operations director Verne Scoggins said postmasters in California, Nevada and Hawaii will be requested to submit reports on where they believe rural service can now be extended or established. The old requirement was a minimum of an average of three families served per mile of travel by the rural carrier. The new requirement is two families per mile.

Scoggins said it has not been determined how many families might benefit from the new regulation, but it is expected that the national average will be 10 families per rural route, which would be a total of 5,380 families in California, Nevada, and Hawaii.

As of last June 30 there were 522 rural routes in California.

Public Health Dept. Schedules Dedication

The San Diego department of public health Friday, September 5, will hold open house and a dedication at the new primary health center at the civic center in San Diego. County officials and dignitaries will attend the 11 a.m. ceremonies.

Orientation Day Set For Students

All sixth grade students are reminded that September 5 is junior high school "Orientation Day" for all pupils who will be entering seventh grade in the fall. "Orientation Day" is designed to acquaint freshmen with school facilities, schedules, and teachers.

The traditional "get acquainted" day is scheduled for both Spring Valley and La Mesa junior high schools. The program at the Spring Valley junior high school will be from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

During the program, a special assembly will be held at each school, at which time the principal, vice-principal, counselors and student body officers will be introduced. After the assembly a regular daily schedule will be explained, in order for the new seventh graders to become familiar with school procedures.

Regular junior high classes for both seventh and eighth graders will begin September 10.

School buses will be running on a regular schedule September 5. To avoid missing a bus, students are urged to be at the bus stop by 9:30 a.m. The bus stops will be the same as used for junior high students during the last semester.

Matadors Sponsoring School Teen Dances

The Matadors, Mt. Miguel high school club, are sponsoring teen dances every Friday from 8 p.m. to midnight in the patio at the school. Music is supplied by the Drifters.

All Grossmont Union high school students are invited to attend.

The dance committee is made up of members of the newly-formed Matador club which is comprised of parents of students at Mt. Miguel high school.

Information about the dances can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Nat Mitchell, HO 9-2646.

Lions Win 7-4 To Take Title

The Little League Lions, under the coaching of Sherman Menard and Leonard Wingo Sr., won the Lemon Grove Minor League championship last week by defeating the Padres 7-4. Frank Nunez was the winning pitcher with Jimmie Devin catching.

The Lions, a newly-organized team without a sponsor, and in third place at mid-season, cut loose to win 12 consecutive games to win the second half of the Western Division. They went on to defeat the Mounties, winners at mid-season, and take the championship.

The team consists of: Jimmie Devin, Steve Perter, Frank Nunez, Larry Hadley, Howard Wallitz, Leonard Wingo Jr., Dain DeMoree, Paul Menard, Bob Evland, Paul Ralston, Bobbie Nunez and Stephen Green. David Leuner was bat boy.

An annual game was to be played Tuesday of this week when the mothers challenged the champion Lions.

Health Team Conducting Septic Tank Survey

A U.S. Public Health Service field team has returned to San Diego county to continue a sanitary survey of septic tank systems begun last year. The study is being carried out for the Federal Housing Administration at no cost to property owners or to San Diego county.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said yesterday the purpose of the study is to try to find the most satisfactory kind of septic tank system. Dr. Askew explained that septic tanks are considered only temporary sewage disposal systems and are permitted only under special conditions and in areas without public sewer lines.

Despite the warm weather, the Country Cousins square dances continue to draw capacity crowds at the La Mesa junior high school, reports Bernice Sharp, publicity chairman. There is dancing every Saturday night except the fifth Saturday, with party nights the second and fourth Saturdays. Soroptimists Hear Meaning Of Club

The Lemon Grove Soroptimist club heard a Lemon Grove woman, Dr. Amorita Treganza, explain the meaning of Soroptimism at the club's weekly breakfast meeting Tuesday at the Dinner Bell Cafe.

Dr. Treganza explained how a chain reaction of good service started with each club, no matter how small the club. The Lemon Grove group is in its charter year.

The club also honored Lemon Grove top high school graduate Mary Sue McMahon. A trophy was given to the honor student earlier this year. Miss McMahon was presented by Mrs. Ruth Pfister.

President Mrs. Beatrice Garber gave a report on the club's project of supplying low-cost housing for the county's retired senior citizens.

The club meets Tuesday morning.

Methodist Church Kids' Crusade Scheduled For LG Next Week

More than 500 youngsters will have a part in the Skyline Wesleyan Methodist church's annual Kids' Crusade next week according to the reverend Orval C. Butcher, pastor. The Crusade will open Monday at 9 and will continue to Saturday morning when the event will be climaxed with a huge parade through Lomita Village.

Last year a record breaking 400 youngsters turned out for a week of fun, music and non-denominational bible study. The Crusade's theme this year is "Miracles" with a "crusader" dressed in medieval armor astride a spirited horse, kicking-off the festivities.

Pastor Butcher said Assistant Pastor Derric Johnson and a staff of 50 are organizing the youngsters into teams of Miracle Makers and Miracle Men. Each day's activities will be heavy with action which include music, worship and work in durable crafts. Snuffy, a shy trumpet playing puppet will be back again this year. New songs, written expressly for the 1958 Crusade will be featured.

Crusader Brigadiers will distribute registration leaflets in Monterey Heights and Lomita Village homes this week under the direction of the Crusade's publicity chairman, Sue Spisak, and her helpers. Friday, the fully armored Crusader will ride his horse to such key places as Knight's Market, Mac's Market and the Lemon Grove Food Basket market. He will also stop at the big lemon at 4 p.m. for picture taking purposes.

Brochures will be handed out at each of the Crusader's stops. Any family wanting to register their youngsters may do so by contacting the church.

Since the signers of the petition must date them and the petitions can be circulated only between certain dates, no material can be prepared until the county functionaries give us the word. Then we'll have plenty of forms for everyone.

Interim Report on Propositions 6 and 17. Proposition 6 restores mandatory public notices (legal advertising) on state bond issues. According to California Newspaper Publishers Association, putting it on the ballot is an admission by the State Senate that it erred two years ago when it lifted the mandatory obligation . . . and the peoples' right to know . . . on state bond issues.

Public notices, dry reading as they are, spell out in precise language exactly what the issues are, and usually, what your money is going to be spent for. These notices are a safeguard in reducing the chances of government agencies explaining it one way to the public by way of public relations firms, the latter having no legal obligation in the way issues are dished up, and doing it another.

Vote "yes" on 6. On Proposition 17, a bill designed to reduce sales tax one cent, the vote should be "no." Not that we're against reducing taxes. We're for that. Expenditures, however, should be reduced in ratio to tax cuts.

If sales tax is cut one cent, and low income tax is reduced 1/2 cent, state revenue must come from other sources. According to the California Taxpayers' Association, income will come from a 2 per cent sales tax on food; increased taxes on cigarettes, beer and liquor; and additional property taxes which would increase the cost of owning homes and also increase rents. Additionally, there would be an increase in tax on incomes above $5,000.

Let's start by cutting some of our foolish expenditures such as overstuffed welfare agencies, some adult training programs and some department of employment personnel whose sole existence, apparently, is to prevent youngsters approaching adulthood from obtaining gainful employment.

The latter is a separate issue but vote "no" on Proposition 17.
